Viticulture has played a significant role in her life from a young age: both Kinga's grandfather and father were grape growers. Inspired by their passion, she chose to enroll at the University of Pécs, in the Faculty of Sciences, specializing in viticulture and oenology engineering.

In 2019, she completed an internship in Chablis, where she discovered the various aspects of Chardonnay.

In 2021, she worked in Entre-deux-Mers, where she fell in love with Bordeaux.

A dream came true when she had the opportunity to join the team at Château La Fleur de Boüard as a cellar master alongside Hubert de Boüard.

For her, wine is about sharing: sharing her passion for wine, spending moments with others, and celebrating life's events.
